Footnotes
VIOLENCE settled into a forward position early down the backstretch, entered the turn from the four path and was the widest off four all having some say in the pace, got set down to a hard drive by midpoint on the turn, bid in earnest as the foursome turned for home, came inward slightly just after spinning into the stretch, brushing with the runner up, went onward for a few strides and came in slightly once more, carrying in VEGAS NO SHOW and making light contact yet again, had the rider take corrective action after both incidents, came inward for a third and final time, leading to REALLY SHARP being allowed to shy away towards the rail but with the end result of putting DARWIN in tight quarters and forcing the pilot of that mount to check himself out of the running for good, likewise in addition to all of that forcing the second place finisher to alter course, with everything occurring in the vicinity of the eighth pole, seemed to mind his manners thereafter and edged away, crossing the wire under a hand ride. VEGAS NO SHOW pressed the issue from three path on the turn, doing so from between rivals from about the seven-sixteenths pole until upper stretch, was wedged in between rivals turning for home, got brushed by the errant winner shortly after setting foot into upper stretch, got carried inward one path or so and brushed a second time by the same wayward foe at the three-sixteenths pole, had the top one lug inward a third time less than a sixteenth down the road, chose to alter course to be outside that rival, proceeded to lug inward twice, the first time after being flashed the whip from the right side, and in the next instance after a solitary but hard shot from the same side, continued onward with good courage to earn the place award. REALLY SHARP disputed the pace from between rivals from the top of the turn until midstretch, was allowed to drift inward, shying away from the winner at midlane, but placing DARWIN in tight down along the fence, lacked the necessary response. DARWIN raced along the inside, was hounded by three others during the run around the bend, left the three-eighths pole under strong handling, was still a prominent factor when forced to check after being squeezed into tight quarters from outside pressure initiated by the winner with about a furlong to go, meandered along for several strides before being re put to vigorous hand urging, failed to pick up interest however. IRSAAL tucked along the rail coming to the end of the backstretch, felt the whip leaving the three-eighths pole, didn't show any pick up in speed and faltered. STORMY LEN got away awkwardly after losing his footing at the start, rode the rail for most of the way down the backstretch, tipped into the two path once IRSAAL chose to take the inside route at the half mile pole, failed to reach a contending position. CANDY RAIDER trailed. There was a Stewards' Inquiry focusing on the stretch drive before the result was declared official.
