Footnotes
PUMPKIN LANE assumed a forward position soon after the start, was rated while prompting the pacesetter, crept up departing the backstretch to increase the pressure, drew directly alongside and raced on even terms for a little while, began to edge away by the five-sixteenths pole, spun into the lane under a right handed whip, held sway, driving. CHLOE BEAR raced from off the inside, was put to solid encouragement around the far turn, rallied to secure second. JOY SEEKER saved ground until the three-eighths pole, was eased into the two path and put to a drive chasing the fighting front runners, proved no match. LA BELLA CHABELLA grabbed a short advantage in the opening stages, was under a firm hold by the rider while cutting the pace, with the eventual winner parked just to the outside, had that rival range up and initiate a more spirited tussle upon reaching the far turn, raced head to head until the five-sixteenths pole, fell back despite having been put to some hand encouragement by this juncture, remained a prominent factor until the eighth pole then backed away. MADISON AVE. JO JO chased from the outside, was under a drive prior to being sent over to the rail midway on the second turn, tired. LEGALLY BAY raced from off the inside, had no semblance of early speed and so dropped far back, picked up interest approaching the head of the stretch, made up some ground proceeding down towards the finish line to no avail.
