Footnotes
SECRET SHIFTERS went up to the front after the start, argued for control while taking the inside route, appeared to be inadvertently placed in tight quarters by that nemesis at the seven-sixteenths pole, requiring the pilot to steady while in close proximity to the heels of REVERE, lost nearly a length and momentum but regained both before arriving at the quarter pole, paused for a stride in hand just before cutting the corner into the lane and challenging in earnest, made little progress from upper to midstretch, continued onward with the stretch duel, took over past the sixteenth pole for good and edged away from a stubborn opponent. REVERE was lightly bumped at the start, sparred from the outside with the top one, gained a respite when that rival backed away temporarily after being steadied early on the turn, felt that rival's presence before reaching the end of it and was soon called upon in response, battled with vigor before yielding in deep stretch. KNOW THIS slow to settle, picked up the pace upon entering the turn, swung five wide into upper stretch, got straightened away and rallied to secure the show. HANDY ANDY raced sluggishly in the opening stages after being bumped at the start, remained at a considerable distance from off the rail departing the backstretch, was four wide by the five-sixteenths marker, flattened out. HARVEST KING rode the rail, had the rider attempt to alter course in upper stretch, remained off the inside only briefly, with the headstrong mount quickly lugging inward to be along the rail once more, had no rally. KERSHNER three wide, had little left after leaving the furlong grounds. NINE LINKS was bumped from both sides at the start, left the backstretch four wide but was in the three path for most of the way around the turn, gave way. HARRY CONSOLIDATOR lost his footing at the break, angled over sharply over to the rail coming to the end of the backstretch, was outrun.
