Footnotes
SPA CITY FEVER loosely stalked the pacesetter from along the outside, moved up into contention during the run around the far turn, angled three wide into the stretch, responded well when set down, cut into the leader's margin leaving the eighth pole, drew abreast of MISSINGLISALEWIS in the vicinity of the sixteenth pole, dueled intensely with the aforementioned rival from that point and gamely got the nod in the final strides. MISSINGLISALEWIS settled along the inside soon after the start, tracked the loose leader from afar down the backstretch, ranged into a forward position departing the backstretch, sat under a good hold, just off the leader's heels by the five-sixteenths pole, waited briefly for room approaching the quarter pole, spun into the lane with a clear alleyway along the inside awaiting him, willingly went through under encouragement to take charge, dug in once the top one made his presence felt by the sixteenth pole, continued onward in game fashion, only to come out on the losing end of the win photograph. PRETTY BOY FREUD rode the rail, followed the runner up into contention by the quarter pole, angled outward in upper stretch and finished willingly to earn the show. CHAYSEN' ALEX three wide both turns, held well to the end. YANKEE EMPIRE within range outside, checked off a tiring rival's heels in upper stretch and went evenly thereafter. PIAZZA DI SPAGNA saved ground, launched a mild rally during the initial portion of the stretch drive before flattening out. PISCITELLI bumped at the start, never reached a contending position. RAPHAEL ALEXANDRO broke outward, underwent a wide journey, came four wide into the stretch, but had little left to offer. BILLIONS BOY firmly rated setting the early fractions towards the inside, faded after reaching the quarter pole. SERVA JUGUM along the inside, was never involved.
