Footnotes

WHY BROADWAY grabbed a forward position and went on to press the issue from the two path, got set down for the stretch drive and fought his way to the front, held sway, driving. TRICKEY GUY rode the rail on the backstretch, vacated the premises nearing the half mile pole, stalked the pace combatants being primarily two wide until the five-sixteenths pole, was guided into the three path, preparing for the stretch drive, took off in earnest once settled into upper stretch, failed to reel in the top one and had to settle for the place. FEAR NOTHING was carried outward by COBALT RED soon after entering the turn, left the three-eighths pole entrenched in the overland route, lost some additional ground as well as some momentum getting forced to swing about six wide into upper stretch as MINGUNADE was himself angling outward at that juncture, continued onward with good courage to garner the show. MINGUNADE raced from off the inside, scurried into contention under strong encouragement during the later stages of the run around the bend, angled four wide into the lane with good momentum, but soon flattened out. HERE COMES DRZ cut the corner into the stretch and faltered. SCRAP DRAGON raced along the outside, was already under a drive when carried by another into the five path turning for home, failed to regain any real interest. VENGEFUL PRIDE argued for command from the inside until upper stretch before backing away. CAROLINA CHANT off the inside, folded. BELL TOWER failed to menace. COBALT RED drifted into the four path while tiring at the three-eighths pole. RECEPTION POINT raced along the outside and was always outrun. GUDAHI stumbled at the start and was never in contention.
