Footnotes
RADIOHEAD (GB) gave chase from the outside, was asked to pick up the pace soon after departing the backstretch, ranged up and put the leader to the test at the end of the run around the turn, spun into the lane in a dead heat with PAPA BEAR and was in front only a few strides later, edged away under a drive during the ensuing furlong and held sway. TEMECULA CREEK stayed within range during the initial stages, was placed in the three path midpoint on the turn, turned for home under encouragement, but lacked the necessary stretch response. PAPA BEAR out sprinted the two others to grab the front, tucked along the rail at the end of the backstretch, felt some pressure for the first time nearing the quarter pole, yielded readily soon afterwards and steadily tired thereafter.
