Footnotes
HOBBS contently tracked the ongoing pace dispute from the pocket, availed of the opportunity and was angled outward three wide shortly before reaching the quarter pole, paused while getting straightened away at the head of the stretch before being cut loose, accelerated by the front runners in the late stages of the run through the furlong grounds to take charge, drew off the final furlong, crossing the finish line under a brisk hand ride. CORE INFLATION argued for command from the inside nearly from the get-go and although unable to keep up with the winner from the eighth pole onward, was still second best. ARTHUR took the inside route and was along for the show. DARWIN AWARD fought briefly for command three wide down the backstretch, continued the dispute a bit closer to the inside and one one one with the runner up once CAME BACK fell back slightly, kept up the fight until upper stretch and gave way. SPRING WARRIOR forwardly placed in the initial stages, was grabbed hold and taken back at the nine-sixteenths pole as a multi-member scuffle was developing at that juncture, chased the front runners three wide around the turn, came up empty for the stretch run. CAME BACK vied for command from between rivals briefly, stayed within range from the outside, was roused at the five-sixteenths pole attempting to still keep pace, tired. FOUR ZEES loped along in the two path and failed to reach contention. EL MACHO saved ground while trailing nearly throughout.
