Footnotes
TIO CHENCHO bumped with PATRICKS BLUFFING at the start, was caught in tight quarters nearing the first turn, bumped with the latter again, was then checked hard off RULERS EXPRESS' heels, kept close not far off the inside, two wide on the second bend, floated out to path five entering the lane, gained the advantage nearing the eighth pole, was clear approaching the final sixteenth and held sway under steady urging. PATRICKS BLUFFING bumped with TIO CHENCHO at the break and nearing the first bend, disputed the pace along the rail but could not hold off the latter deep stretch. ARTEMUS JOY pressed from outside, took a slight lead three wide on the second turn but slowly yielded inside the last furlong. ASFAAR settled from outside on the backstretch, gained a striking position when he made his move three wide on the second turn, fanned out behind TIO CHENCHO into the lane, altered outside that one upper stretch, gradually wore down but proved clearly best of the rest. SUNDAY SAINT hustled along just off the rail on the backstretch, took the rail into the second turn, altered out for a clear path into the stretch and gradually lugged in as he passed tired ones inside the last eighth. FORCED ACTION hesitated then was bumped and forced out just after leaving the gate, slowly improved position from outside, was just off the inside taking the second bend, altered in for a clear path upper stretch and leveled off in the late going. RULERS EXPRESS vied for the lead between rivals, failed to keep up two wide leaving the second turn and quickly gave way through the stretch. COLONEL CAMBY a step slow from the gate, bore out as he left his position, bumped FORCED ACTION, soon trailed from inside, floated out entering the stretch and was allowed to coast.
