Footnotes
SUNDAY SAINT shared the lead from inside, moved clear when asked entering the lane, drifted out some under left-handed pressure midstretch, was corrected and held sway under steady handling. BOOT TAILS gradually progressed from inside, came off the rail some to advance between rivals on the second bend, moved clear for second upper stretch, could not close the gap on the leader but remained unchallenged for the place. PALACE TENOR vied for the lead just outside SUNDAY SAINT, could not stay with that one entering the stretch, soon fell back to third, ran evenly the rest of the way but was easily best of the rest. RAGGEDY HOBO prominent running widest, came four wide into the lane and lacked a significant response. POWERFULLY awkward at the break, took a few yards to regain his stride, advanced between rivals, took the rail into the second bend and tired for the drive. GROOVY ANNIE void of speed, moved to the rail near the half mile marker, was angled out for a clear path inside the last eighth but had little to offer. THE ALCOVA KID hesitated at the start, trailed from inside, gradually angled out widest leaving the second turn and proved empty.
