Footnotes

BACCHI hustled to midpack after lunging at the start, was switched to a firm hold after achieving the goal, bided time, keeping pace with the front runners while two wide, was maneuvered one path further off the inside coming to the five-sixteenths pole, swung into the lane under a drive, closed in on the embattled twosome a short distance up ahead, reached the eighth pole, the outermost of a newly-formed threesome, with only heads separating them, grabbed command a few strides later and drew clear under a hand drive. ULTIMO PRINCIPE was grabbed hold of after ducking outward at the start, recovered and moved up willingly into a good forward position, vied with HONOR ERNESTO for the lead, from the two path, commencing the bid midway on the turn, came inward a bit in the vicinity of the eighth pole, brushing with HONOR ERNESTO, resumed a straighter course after being pulled off that foe, and continued on with good courage to take the place. HONOR ERNESTO vied along the inside for the lead, lost momentum briefly when brushed by the runner up in the vicinity of the furlong marker, then was outkicked by that one for second. GOODNIGHT BRAD rode the rail, angled off the inside at the three-sixteenths pole, but failed to deliver the needed closing punch. CROWN'S DOMINION saved ground, angled four wide into the lane and tired. LITTLE BLOW HEART raced along the outside and was outrun. An objection lodged by the rider of HONOR ERNESTO against the rider of ULTIMO PRINCIPE alleging interference in the stretch was not allowed.
