Footnotes

SCENARIO ANALYSIS brushed with MOLLY MORGAN just out of the starting gate, settled along the inside, took over the abandoned pocket midway down the backstretch, contently tracked the pacesetter from there, slipped outward just before reaching the end of the second turn, altered course outward gradually to be four wide by the three-sixteenths pole and commenced to rally in earnest, overhauled the runner up a short distance past the sixteenth marker and edged away, crossing the wire under hand urging. FIRST WHIPPOORWILL sat reserved from off the inside for the opening three-quarters, remained under a good hold from the rider biding time for about a furlong starting from the five-sixteenths pole, found room and split rivals, altered course towards the rail once safely through, taking STARSHIP SABRINA along for a short ride, gained a narrow advantage leaving the furlong grounds, relinquished to the top one in deep stretch, continued onward willingly to secure second. SHEZA HEARTBREAKER appeared to scrape the right side of the starting gate prior to stumbling at the start, raced from off the inside for the opening half, but cut the corner into the stretch, was taken outward several paths during the run through the furlong grounds, displayed good late foot to grab the show. DOWNTOWN HOTTIE the early pocket sitter, was eased to the outside midway down the backstretch, prompted the leader positioned just off that rival's hind quarters, moved up to issue a challenge approaching the quarter pole, had the front before reaching the next marker, left the eighth pole clinging to a sliver of a lead, relinquished to the second place finisher soon afterwards and steadily weakened. ARSENAL assumed a forward position soon after the start, raced three wide around the far turn, was asked for some run to keep pace in the vicinity of the five-sixteenths pole, remained a prominent factor until midstretch before backing away. MOLLY MORGAN made light contact with the winner right after the start, rode the rail until the half mile pole, was taken outward and left the three-eighths pole three wide, spun a couple of paths wider into upper stretch, lacked the needed response. PRINCESS MARA urged four wide into the lane, had no gain. STARSHIP SABRINA saved ground for nearly three-quarters, left the rail for the stretch run, got carried inward a couple of paths in mid lane, failed to regain any real interest. GINNY'S CLASSIC raced rankly, fighting against the bit while proceeding towards the first turn, bore out to be four to five wide, was guided back towards the inside shortly afterwards, struck the three-quarter marker first under stout restraint, edged away and tucked along the rail once sufficiently clear, set the splits under the attention of DOWNTOWN HOTTIE, had that rival crank up the pressure as the pair made their way to the quarter pole, gave way after being pounced upon and retreated.
