Footnotes

FANCY POINT away in good order, responded kindly to the rating tactics being applied by the rider during the straightaway approach to the opening bend, spurted off to a loose lead before completing a half, continued along on the same scenario departing the backstretch, sat chilly, despite feeling the presence of PLEINE FORME ,nearing the quarter pole, shook free once more after being let out a notch, emerged from the furlong grounds with a comfortable advantage then held sway under good handling. KATHMANBLU bumped with LAUREN BYRD a couple of strides out of the gate, after lunging at the start, patently rode the hedge, remained on hold and along the inside, behind a wall of horses several lengths in front, rather than attempt to fan five wide into the stretch, proceeded to angle sharply three wide turning for home, rallied immediately after being called upon, finished with good energy down the course to garner place honors. PLEINE FORME one of the first to pop of the starting gate, was put to a snug hold, slipped outward midway on the first turn, was content to stalk the uncontested leader from a distance down the backstretch, still unasked for run, unleashed her challenge for the lead nearing the five-sixteenths pole, was quickly rebuffed once the top one was asked for speed, continued on with the chase, narrowed the gap once again during the final eighth, while drifting out several paths in the late stages. LAUREN BYRD forwardly placed while undergoing a wide journey, was asked to pick up the pace approaching the five-sixteenths pole, got outkicked during the stretch run. BELIEVE IN A. P. three wide around both turns, lacked the necessary stretch response. MARIA'S LUCK was through after completing six furlongs. ARCH SUPPORT three wide around the opening bend, travelled in the four path around the next one, steadily tired after entering the stretch. AVANTA saved ground and faded.
