Footnotes

STEALTH MISSILE off to an alert beginning despite bobbling at the break, took up the role of stalker, well placed in the two path and under a firm hold, patiently kept an eye on the pacesetter until departing the half mile pole, ranged up quickly to issue a challenge for command coming to the seven-sixteenths pole, went to head to head with KING BO BO during an abbreviated duel, before assuming a clear advantage turning for home, came outward a little more than a path under heavy left handed pressure in the vicinity of the eighth pole, gradually shifted back towards the two path a sixteenth later when switched over to strong hand encouragement only and successfully turned back the sole stretch threat for the decision. TIMELESS CLASSIC reserved off the inside during the opening half, steadily advanced into a good striking position during the run around the second bend, with the rider attempting to keep something in reserve, took off in earnest when called upon after being straightened away, narrowed in on the leader, altered course to the inside coming to the furlong marker, closed the gap a bit more before losing momentum for a stride or two altering course back outward in the vicinity of the sixteenth pole, reacting to the top one's drifting inward a bit at this point, continued onward with good courage but had to settle for place honors. FRENCH TRANSITION took the inside route around the first turn before being eased into the two path early on the backstretch, remained unhurried from there in midpack between rivals, was set down at the five-sixteenths pole and rallied well enough to be along in time for the show. EMPIRE EXPRESS darted quickly to the inside after leaving the starting gate, tracked the front runner but lacked the necessary stretch response when asked for run. KING BO BO set the early fractions towards the inside, was put to the test at the seven-sixteenths pole and succumbed a quarter of a mile later. DEALING LUCKY three wide around both turns, folded. BAI BAI DUBAI raced along the outside and was outrun. SAWTOOTH MOUNTAIN saved ground and failed to threaten. An objection lodged by the rider of TIMELESS CLASSIC alleging interference against the rider of STEALTH MISSILE in the stretch was not allowed.
