TRUTH WILL TELL unhurried in the initial stages, made a mild middle move down the backstretch, under her own power to improve position, had the momentum stalled when forced to be taken hold of as JUSTLEAVEMEALONE was tucking along the rail in the vicinity of the seven-sixteenths pole, remained buried behind traffic a good portion of the run around the bend, steadied a second time approaching the quarter pole, turned for home and began to pick up the pace as racing room slowly got better, altered course and split rivals from upper stretch until the sixteenth pole, emerged with the lead at this station and kicked clear under good handling. HOOPSKIRT raced three wide around both turns, was released from a snug hold on the reins by the rider approaching the end of the backstretch, rambled into contention, with the pilot still holding something in reserve all the while, was the widest of three front runners entering the stretch and got turned loose, fought stubbornly for the lead making her way to the finish line, proved unable to match the top one's speed but displayed good determination to win the battle for place honors. JUSTLEAVEMEALONE strung out three wide on the opening bend, tucked over to the inside shortly after leaving the backstretch, launched a rail rally to loom boldly with an eighth to go, remained in the thick of things before flattening out slightly in the late stages. CHALK PLAYER off the inside, was under urging swinging from the three path into the lane, lacked the needed response. TOUGH MARKET rated prompting the pacesetter from the outside, made a successful challenge for the lead coming to the five-sixteenths pole, got called upon, turning for home with heavy pressure having built up just behind, dug in well for about another furlong, before weakening. DOPKE GAL took the inside route around the first turn, swung off the fence entering the backstretch, travelled in the three path on the far turn, had no stretch offering to render. SHE DRIVES ME WILD showed the way from the inside, gave way readily when put to the test leaving midpoint on the far turn and tired.
