Footnotes

ZERO YIELD sat perched in the three path behind the ongoing pace dispute, with the rider atop with a snug hold on the reins, moved up to challenge the front runners approaching the five-sixteenths pole, doing so with the rider still holding something in reserve, turned for home only nearly even terms with BEAUTIFUL ONE and got asked for a response, scampered away during the ensuing furlong, was kept to encouragement for another sixteenth before being allowed to finish the race basically under her own courage. ENRICHMENT raced along the outside, within range of the pace fight, angled three wide into the stretch and came home willingly enough to garner the place. BEAUTIFUL ONE argued for control from the inside, felt additional pressure once the winner ranged up from the three path leaving the midway point on the turn, fell back readily once the stretch run began, had the jockey lose the whip in midstretch then weakened into the show slot. DEAR ELIZABETH contested the pace from the two path, continued that battle from between rivals from the five-sixteenths pole to the top of the lane before backing away. HUGHESDATGIRL underwent a ground-saving journey, was under urging cutting the corner into the stretch, came up empty. VASSILY three wide departing the backstretch, was no menace. QUICK CALL bobbed a few strides out of the starting gate, raced three wide around the bend, was under a drive just past the three-eighths pole, folded.
