Footnotes

ULTIMO PRINCIPE put to some urging leaving the starting gate, was out sprinted for early command by TROOP SUPPORT nonetheless, was swung off the inside and put into the two path after conceding the early advantage for good, nearing the half mile pole, was coaxed on the turn to maintain reasonable striking distance, gained readily on the weakening pacesetter coming to the eighth pole, went by easily to take charge then edged away from the competition to prove best. JOKER JACK took the inside route, worked her way into the middle of the track in several stages and displayed enough stretch energy to grab the place. METAURUS unhurried while towards the inside, was taken outward leaving the five-sixteenths pole, spun from the three path into upper stretch and got outkicked. EXLEY sluggish down the backstretch, failed to menace. TROOP SUPPORT outsprinted the top one for early command, showed the way from the inside, uncontested, began to shorten stride noticeably approaching the furlong marker, was overhauled and steadily tired thereafter. DECENNIAL was outrun.
