Footnotes

PERCUSSION off the inside, was unhurried for nearly a half, got placed three wide at the top of the lane and commenced his stretch drive, found his best stride, picking up speed noticeably approaching the eighth pole, finished fast to grab the lead in the final seventy yards and edged clear. CAT IN THE FOREST rated kindly in the two path within range of the ongoing pace dispute, ducked over to the rail in the vicinity of the five-sixteenths pole, continued to bide time for the remainder of the way around the bend, approached the head of the stretch with a clear alleyway awaiting, was let out and took over with the well-timed move, had no answer when the winner made his presence, yielding without much of fight, then just held on for place honors. WON FAST BULLET darted over to the inside shortly after the break, rode the rail until the quarter pole, was already under encouragement when angled outward at that station, closed in readily, altered course back to the inside once the premises had been vacated by the runner up, lost little if any momentum undergoing this maneuver, continued onward willingly to the wire, missed out on the place. VEE'S ACCOLADE was slow to settle into stride, raced from off the inside during the run around the bend, swung four wide into the stretch and came with good belated energy to secure the last major check. PREMIUM WINE forwardly placed in the opening phases, was taken back coming to the end of the backstretch, sat perched from the four path, rider atop with a snug hold on the reins, keeping a watchful eye on the pace combatants, got released from the rating tactics as the field turned for home, kept the leader under pressure from upper to midstretch before flattening out. OBVIOUSLY TUESDAY dueled three wide and gave way after a half. MANDATED BLISS broke a bit awkwardly, zipped by the field to grab a clear early advantage, had OBVIOUSLY TUESDAY range up and initial a duel by the half mile pole, raced on nearly terms for the next quarter, successfully fended off the challenge, but gained no respite, coming under attack from the second place finisher soon afterwards, remained a prominent factor until the furlong marker, then retreated to last.
