Footnotes

E Z PASSER took up the chase from the two path on the turn, swung wider into the stretch and took off in earnest after the front runners, went by coming to midstretch, with the eventual runner up bottled up in a traffic jam, wedged between rivals, kicked well clear before TAYLOR JAGGER could get clear. TAYLOR JAGGER sat patiently pocketed for nearly a half, was forced to be kept on hold lacking suitable options, starting from the five-sixteenths marker, turned for home without gaining any relief from the previously-described predicament, raced wedged between rivals from upper stretch to the sixteenth pole, bumping lightly but repeatedly with INAFASH, finally squeezed her way to freedom and flashed belated interest. FIRST PENNY underwent a three wide pursuit, closed enough ground from upper to midstretch to loom a threat with an eighth to go, flattened out. INAFASH was hustled into a prominent position, argued for command while saving ground, had the runner up shoehorn herself into a tight fit between her and FIRST PENNY during the run through the furlong grounds, bumped several times with TAYLOR JAGGER as that one sought to force her way through a less than optimal path, gave way the final sixteenth. MIDNIGHTINPOSITANO disputed the pace from the two path, was through after going a half.
