PRIX DE KARAKORUM contently prompted the pacesetter from the outside, with more than a path separating the pair, was put to some coaxing to keep pace leaving the seven-sixteenths pole, received much stronger handling turning for home, overhauled CHAKA BWANA to head to the eighth pole with a clear advantage, but with the runner up, now fully roused himself, in hot pursuit, then dug in with good determination to fend that opponent off to preserve the decision. ZONE BREAKER was kept in reserve within range for almost a half, responded positively once given his cue in upper stretch, reached nearly terms with an eighth to go, but was successfully shaken off. THE CUFF SHOOTER sat under a firm hold until the quarter pole, was released from it after entering the stretch and flattened out. CHAKA BWANA set the pace from the inside and gave way by upper stretch. STUDLEY dove to the inside soon after the start, rode the rail until the vicinity of the five-sixteenths pole, attempted to commence a rally from the four path at the head of the stretch but wasn't up to the task. DONTQUITYOURDAYJOB off a beat slowly, was given two right handed shots a few strides out of the starting gate, en route to taking up position along the inside in midpack, was through after completing a half.
