Footnotes

QUE POSSE off last, took off with interest under hand encouragement to reach the back of the pack soon afterwards, was taken in hand at the end of the move after coming up to another's heels near the five-eighths pole, got going once more on proper stride, departed the backstretch from the three-path, gained readily on the front runners during the run around the bend, turned for home and was set down, had just drawn alongside JUSTIN PHILLIP when bumped and carried out a couple of paths by that opponent in midstretch, continued onward with good courage, wearing down the leader in the late stages to prove best. JUSTIN PHILLIP settled near the inside after the start, spurred on nearly terms with ROCK YARD for most of the opening half, gained a respite late on the turn, entered the stretch and soon felt the presence of the top one, came outward approaching the eighth pole, bumping with and taking the eventual winner along for a short ride, got caught in the late stages and had to settle for the place. ROCK YARD spurred with the runner up from the outside for the opening half, got out finished after entering the stretch. ARCH TRAVELER saved ground to no avail. PETER'S CREEK raced along the outside and tired.
