Footnotes

CHARITY BALL moved with good energy under her own power to kick clear in the early stages, settled along the rail after having done so, cut the pace, rated along and with EVER AWESOME latched on from the outside, began to edge away during the later stages of the run around the bend, despite having backed down the pace, entered the stretch and was given her cue, increased the advantage to its biggest by the furlong marker, had it cut down slice by slice thereafter, dug in well enough long enough to preserve it, partially aided by the erratic course taken by the second place finisher in the late stages. CAPE SONG assumed a position from off the inside in the middle of the field, sat wedged between rivals for nearly the entire way around the turn, rider forced to keep a firm hold on the reins, found a seam prior to the quarter pole and after being let out a notch proceeding to angle outward for freedom, was four wide at the head of the stretch, cut in the winner's margin substantially leaving the eighth pole, lugged inward noticeably in the final seventy yards, eventually winding just off the top one's heels, with the pilot forced to take hold. BARBIE WIRE made contact with EVER AWESOME and got carried inward slightly at the break, tucked into the pocket leaving the chute, patiently tracked the pacesetter from there, slipped into the two path turning for home and was set down, got outfinished by the two twosome. SYLVIA T saved ground, moved up into contention late on the turn, flattened out. MINX three wide on the far turn, tired. ANJOU in the three path departing the backstretch, went on to improve position. EVER AWESOME came inward initiating contact with BARBIE WIRE, took up the role of primary pursuer soon afterwards, was rated in the two path while accompanying the winner, challenged briefly heading for the top of the lane before backing away. TAYLOR JAGGER off the inside, was outrun. MAGICAL WORLD underwent a three wide pursuit, folded.
