Footnotes

AWESOME WEEKEND underwent a three wide pursuit, picked up interest and closed in late on the turn, challenged in earnest entering the stretch, was driven to a clear advantage during the ensuing furlong and held sway. CHARLIE'S PUNCH tracked the front runners while saving ground, sat in the pocket idling behind rivals awaiting suitable options heading for the quarter pole, was a few strides into the stretch run before availing of an opportunity to alter course outward, gained ground some ground, but not enough. RAFFIE'S STAR raced from off the inside, was four wide at the three-sixteenths pole, got outfinished. KEVIN SILVERLASPIA travelled in the three path on the turn and was no factor. BIZARROWORLD vied for command from the rail, under a firm hold by the pilot down the backstretch, was let out a notch near the top of the turn, came under assault from the winner approaching the quarter pole and soon succumbed. MY COUSIN EDDIE prompted BIZARROWORLD from the outside for about a half before giving way. JACKIN MY STYLE off a beat slowly, saved ground to no avail.
