Footnotes

FLARING worked out a tuck into the two path coming to the end of the backstretch, fanned outward into the five path during the initial portion of the stretch drive, settled into her best nearing the eighth pole, got herded out by the runner up, all the while whittling away at that one's advantage, bumped solidly with that rival in the shadow of the wire but gamely got the job done. DEAR TO ALL crept into contention with a three wide run on the bend, swung slightly wider into the stretch, began to drift outward badly past the furlong marker while in possession of the lead, carrying out the eventual winner while doing so, bumped hard in the final stages with that opponent and had to settle for the place. WHITE PANTS NIGHT established command shortly after the start, departed the backstretch from the rail, drifted out steadily from that point onward, arrived at the head of the stretch in the three path, yielded a short distance past the eighth pole and weakened in the show slot. VIOLET HOUR stalked the leader two to three wide on the turn, raced between rivals for much of the way through the furlong grounds, as well as being much wider than on the bend, backed away in the last eighth. TWO BLUE HENS raced from off the inside, picked up the pace getting fanned into the six path coming to the three-sixteenths pole, had a plethora of rivals either drifting or getting carried outward, altered course closer to the rail with less than a sixteenth pole, paused off another's heels very shortly afterwards and made no impact.. TIZAROCKET underwent a ground-saving journey, was getting asked for run on the turn, tired.
