Footnotes

WAVE THEORY took an awkward first step towards the outside leaving the starting gate, recovered and took up position in midpack, was unhurried from between rivals, picked up interest angling outward from the five-sixteenths pole, commenced the stretch drive being three wide, arrived at the eighth pole as the closest opponent to ATLANTIC DREAM, hitched up to that foe after going an additional sixteenth, grabbed the lead in the final seventy yards and kicked clear, crossing the wire under brisk hand encouragement. ATLANTIC DREAM assumed the role of primary pursuer in the initial stages, contently kept an eye on the pacesetter towards the two path for the opening half, crept up and drew alongside by the three-eighths pole, moved on to take command unasked for speed by the time she hit the quarter pole, was let out a notch and a notch only from upper to midlane, got asked for more as the eventual winner, closing in with good momentum, announced her presence at this juncture, yielded past the sixteenth pole, after having been primarily hand encouraged with a stray left handed shot from the stick also being thrown into the mix, completed the last seventy yards to be second best. VOODOO TALES rated along the rail until the vicinity of the five-sixteenths marker, gave way. MY ALY RAE tucked over to the inside coming to the half mile pole, rode the rail for nearly a quarter, swung outward late on the far turn and was under a drive taking the three path for entrance into upper stretch, continued onward with a mild response to grab the last major check. STORMY RHAPSODY nibbled on the bit before settling down by the end of the homestretch, tracked the leader under light coaxing from the pocket, slipped into the two coming to the five-sixteenths pole, got called upon for the stretch run and flattened out. TROPHY POINT reserved in the two path, lacked a rally. ROCK SHOW three wide around both turns, folded. LAZULITE raced in the three path for three-quarters and tired. BAU BAI GOLD took the inside route, was asked for run before reaching the quarter pole, faltered.
