Footnotes

CRUSHIN ROCK got hooked up by LAKOTA FREUD soon after the start to commence a protracted speed duel, had it last until deep into the furlong grounds, shook free of his chief nemesis for good with an eighth to go and drew well clear of all others, crossing the wire under a brisk hand drive. KEYALY guided over to the inside coming to the end of the backstretch, launched a rail rally to procure the place. MY COUSIN EDDIE took a sharp first step inward, was almost instantaneously grabbed hold and pulled off GEANTOR before contact could be made, left the three-eighths pole three wide, came home willingly to rally for the show honors. RIVER RON raced from off the inside, was under encouragement chasing the embattled front runners on the turn, proved no match for the winner of that battle, then got outfinished down the stretch by another pair and had to settle for the last major check. LAKOTA FREUD sparred on nearly even terms with the winner from the outside until the furlong grounds, got overwhelmed by a swarm of opponents during the final seventy yards to finish off the board. BLAKE STREET BULLY saved ground until the quarter pole and had no rally. GEANTOR off to a sluggish beginning, raced along the outside and was never involved.
