Footnotes

ERIN ENCHANTED took up position in midpack after the start, sat reserved from off the inside for almost six furlongs, was put to strong urging and unleashed a four wide challenge, commencing the move from the five-sixteenths marker, took over before completing the way through the furlong grounds, drifted out steadily throughout the stretch drive, but held off an equally errant foe for the decision. G. A. EMPRESS the early trailer, picked up interest soon after entering the turn, tipped to be three wide at the midway point, went on a little further before tipping outward an additional couple of paths in order to gain optimal clearance as a tightly-bunched grouping congregated at the quarter pole, spun into the stretch full of run and under strong handling, narrowed the gap proceeding down the stretch, matching the winner's movement towards the grandstand apron all the while, fell short of reeling that rival in and had to settle for the place. GET GORGEOUS rode the rail for nearly three-quarters, was eased into the two path a few strides before arriving at the quarter pole, was forced to be kept on hold, positioned off a wall of rivals spread out across the track, got called upon soon after settling into upper stretch, altered course after MY UNBRIDLED STORM crossed over into her lane in midstretch, displayed some late foot after finishing this maneuver en route for the show. RODINIA fought for a brief period of time for command, got successfully eased back rather than remain in a dispute that involved at least three others, stayed forwardly placed while saving ground until upper stretch, was asked for a response but failed to give any. MY UNBRIDLED STORM unhurried from off the inside until the end of the turn, failed to fire appreciably once the stretch run began. APPEALETTA was briefly involved in a four way skirmish for the lead during the early stages of the race, had the innermost of the foursome get eased back shortly before reaching the half mile pole, availed of this move and tucked over to the rail at that station, was pressed by another pair on the turn, came under an even more severe assault as the field headed into the stretch, lasted for a little while on the front end, got displaced and tired in the final furlong. FORTHELOVEOF ANNA raced from off the inside, contested the pace from between opponents on the turn and tired. APTPHILLY three wide, disputed the pace as the widest of three on the turn, with the rest of the competition in close proximity throughout the fight, backed away turning for home.
