MARCELLINA D'ORO made light contact with the runner up leaving the starting gate, raced in the two path and from between rivals for much of the way around the opening bend, had the rider of IRATINELEXBURANCE drag his mount back and soon tucked over to the rail afterwards, argued on nearly even terms with FREGE down the backstretch, on the far turn and into the stretch, got called upon turning for home, began to inch away from her nemesis during the run through the furlong grounds, dug in well in the late stages under a drive to fend off not only that opponent but the eventual second place finisher as well. GALADRIEL LADY brushed with the top one at the break, quickly tucked along the rail and took the inside route a good three-quarters of the way on the first turn, entered the backstretch two wide and remained off the inside thereafter, was asked for some run and began to pick up the pace upon departing the backstretch, was forced into the four path entering the turn when beaten to position by STICK TO YOUR GUNS, got straightened away, made up good ground in the final furlong but came up short. FREGE vied for command from the outside, got shaken off by the winner coming to the eighth pole, held on well for the show. STICK TO YOUR GUNS strung out as the widest of four heading for the opening bend, was eased back a bit and worked out a tuck into the two path a short distance from the end of the homestretch, tracked the front runners from near the inside, advanced into contention with a rail run launched from the vicinity of the half mile pole, angled outward and beat GALADRIEL LADY to the three path for entrance into the lane, having already been put to strong encouragement, went on a little further before flattening out. IRATINELEXBURANCE the innermost of four making their way towards the opening bend, was put to a snug hold and taken back soon afterwards, patiently tracked the front runners before being let out a notch by the end of the backstretch, gave chase from off the inside, was three wide by the top of the lane, tired. ARTFULLY took an awkward initial step and made slight contact with the left side of the starting gate, then got steadied after the rival breaking to her inside broke to the outside, raced three wide, began dropping back after going a half, finished the race well behind the others while kept to a brisk hand ride.
