Footnotes

BELLA CASTANI was taken back after the start, raced rankly in reaction to the rider's hold on the reins proceeding onto the main course, settled down soon afterwards, closed in after halfway around the bend, turned for home four wide, poised to strike yet unasked for run, was given her cue and struck the front first at the eighth pole, kicked clear. EXCHANGE CAT assumed a forward position after the start, contently kept a watchful eye on the leader from off the inside during the initial stages, ranged up to latch on in the vicinity of the five-sixteenths pole, sat wedged from that station to the quarter pole, bidding time, challenged in earnest spinning into the lane, commenced the stretch appearing to cling to the slimmest of edges, arrived at the furlong marker, seemingly to be trailing by the slimmest of edges, fell back steadily thereafter but dug in well to preserve the place. RIVERBOAT QUEEN underwent a three wide pursuit, patiently stalked the pacesetter, got let out a notch midway on the turn, cruised up to make her presence felt a sixteenth later, turned for home and got called upon, remained a prominent factor until deep stretch before weakening slightly. PINK TRILLIUM tracked the front runners from the rail, remained on hold awaiting suitable options late on the full turn, angled outward to be three wide entering the stretch, lacked the needed response. GIRL OF THE RAIN (IRE) away well from the gate, quickly established control, cut the pace, rating kindly from the inside, came under intense pressure near the five-sixteenths marker, turned for home and was put to encouragement, succumbed readily and retreated.
