Footnotes

PROUD DAME sat well rated in the two path in closest pursuit of the pair vying out front, came under light urging at the five-sixteenths pole, continued two wide for home moving to engage the front, was in a bit tight briefly between rivals at the three-sixteenths under a drive, seized command with a furlong to go among a foursome stacked across the track, inched away under a drive, braced for a challenge late on and just held on at the wire to prevail. ALWAYS HOME saved ground settling at the rear, was under coaxing midway on the turn while two to three wide steadily making progress on the front, swung three wide for home under a drive, shifted out nearing the final furlong to the center of the course for a clear lane as a host of rivals stacked up inside, unleashed a strong kick down the outside through the latter portion of the stretch drive and just missed on the wire while procuring the place. CLEVER SPIRIT sat well rated in midpack while three wide until the midway point on the turn, came under urging at that juncture, moved quickly into prominence approaching the eighth pole, had to wait briefly unhurried as rivals stacked up in front of her, shifted inside one path nearing the final sixteenth, kicked on belatedly for the show honors while not missing by much for the win. BOURBONOLOGY reserved off the pace leading the second flight, was pushed long from the two path into the turn, swung four wide in upper stretch under a drive, moved into contention with an eighth to go the outermost of a foursome strung out across the track, continued on with good energy while out kicked in the last furlong by the top three, drifted in late on under right handed encouragement. CRYPTO KITTEN broke in at the start bumping KATIE MALONE and was corrected, vied three wide under light urging, swung three wide for home fully engaged by the rider, was among a quartet striking the eighth pole together, began to weaken a bit late on between rivals when forced to check nearing the wire due to two rivals drifting late squeezing her out of her lane. KATIE MALONE squeezed back between rivals at the start when bumped by CRYPTO KITTEN who broke in, came under coaxing midway on the turn, cut the corner into the lane, was prominent in close range at the eighth pole before weakening through the final eighth. HLAO ROO vied inside while under restraint, cut the corner under a drive, remained in contention until the final eighth and faltered. CARROT THIEF broke in at the start and bumped her inside foe, chased three wide through the far turn and offered no response when called upon. FIRST FACE towards the rear unhurried while two to three wide, swung four wide at the quarter pole and offered little. TRUE SCARLET raced towards the rear just off the inside and made no impact.
