Footnotes

MRS. CALABASH made solid and lasting contact with STAR BLACK after leaving the starting gate, went onward for a couple of jumps then bumped with GO OLIVIA GO, grabbed command, vied to maintain a slim advantage, kept at a slight distance from off the rail, approached the quarter pole with an increase in the pressure and was let out, edged away to her biggest lead by the end of the furlong grounds, trudged home the last eighth pole for the decision. CHEROKEE FOG guided over to the rail before reaching the end of the backstretch, was forced to bid time for a brief time under a firm hold by the pilot nearing the end of the bend, stayed glue to the inside until midstretch, proved no match after getting angled outward. GO OLIVIA GO bumped solidly in the hind quarters by the winner shortly after the start, was unhurried for the opening half, picked up interest upon entering the turn, was the widest of the three front runners spinning into the lane, remained a prominent factor for a little while longer then flattened out. MYSTIC RHYME was pulled away by the rider in time to avoid becoming a significant part of the bumping incident in the very earliest stages, getting leaned upon by FACEINEVERYFLOWER at most, was put to a drive by the midway point down the backstretch, chased the winner from near the two path, angled outward once STAR BLACK began to back away coming to the five-sixteenths pole and sat wedged between opponents vying for control turning for home, had the move fizzle out soon afterwards and tired. FACEINEVERYFLOWER bumped at the start, raced along the outside and was outrun. STAR BLACK bumped from between foes at the break, went head to head with the top one for a good portion of the way down the backstretch, continued to press the issue from the two path until midpoint on the turn and gave way.
