Footnotes

LADY YELLOW TAIL patiently tracked the loose leader from the inside, closed in readily upon reaching the full turn, angled outward just before reaching the quarter pole, bid from between rivals approaching the head of the stretch, kicked clear during the run through the furlong grounds, faced a fresher set of challengers and hung on well under good handling to stave them off. BUNHEAD sat reserved in midpack from the inside, squeezed her way into the two path early on the far turn, remained on hold wedged in amongst opponents, was forced to await suitable options coming to the quarter pole, altered course about a sixteenth down the road to gain optimal racing clearance, kicked in with good energy after completing the maneuver to secure the place. MADAME JOHAR cut the corner into the stretch, was taken over towards the middle of the course during the initial portion of the stretch drive, got straightened away and came home with good energy en route for the show. ALWAYSINMYCIRCLE bumped soundly a couple of jumps out of the starting gate, sat within range from the outside for nearly three-quarters pole, responded positively when given her cue to take the last major slice of the pot. MELA DRAMATICALLY raced well from a considerable distance from off the rail, fanned seven wide into upper stretch, and rallied to earn a share of the last major check. MARY P. JONES made solid contact with ALWAYSINMYCIRCLE soon after the start, took up a forward post, raced three wide on the turn, was set down by the five-sixteenths pole, remained a forward factor for a little while longer before backing away. HEY LITTLE GIRL strung out three wide at the five-sixteenths pole in a tight-packed group, lacked the necessary stretch. IRISHTOCAT was checked behind a rank rival just before entering the backstretch, re tucked along the rail soon afterwards, rode the rail until the furlong grounds, was angled outward and displayed a brief burst of speed, failed to sustain it. SIRACHA chased afar in the opening stages, moved up to issue a challenge from between rivals in the three path coming to the quarter pole, flattened out. DIXIE ROCKS scampered off to an open lead, showed the way being rated along the inside, heard the others closing in leaving the midway point on the second turn, got let out as when put to the test at the quarter pole and succumbed. ALWAYS HOME underwent a three to four wide journey and had little left for the stretch run. THIRTY MINUTES rank, was checked prior to leaving the elbow chute, got placed the widest down the backstretch and was outrun thereafter.
