Footnotes

MARIEF N KATHY established command shortly after the start, was kept at a slight distance from off the rail while cutting the pace, had the pressure pick up in intensity at the third fraction as being completed and got set down, had an intense duel with the runner commence shortly afterwards, dug in stubbornly as the twosome went at it head to head and gamely kept hers in front when it counted the most. ANNA SOPHIA contently tracked the winner from the pocket, entered the stretch with less than optimal racing clearance for the asking, gained enough to launch a challenge in earnest nearing the end of the furlong grounds, sparred with vigor racing on even terms with the top one in the late stages, lost the bob. READY SIGNAL got away awkwardly after throwing her head leaving the starting gate, leading the pilot to steady, was quickly guided over to the inside route and stayed put on it until the later stages of the run around the bend, slipped into the two path at that juncture, kept to a firm hold by the rider, was put to some hand urging, idling behind the front runners travelling through the furlong grounds, lacking a suitable path to launch a bid, was given her cue and went on to draft behind the runner up coming to the eighth pole, got angled outward and continued onward willingly to take the show. CLARINDA raced from off the inside, got eased into the three path in the vicinity of the five-sixteenths pole, was stuck in traffic behind rivals from that point until well into the furlong grounds, got maneuvered to be outside all front runners, eventually settling into the six path to gain the needed clearance, closed in well with only the last major check to show for the effort. FLORAL ROMANCE three wide on the first turn, was strung out in the four path on the subsequent one, weakened. ROCK MY HEART (GER) raced three on both turns, tired. SWEET AND LOVELY raced three wide on the opening bend, continued from off the rail thereafter while sitting forwardly placed, backed away after going six furlongs. LEAD ME ON spun three wide into the backstretch, gave way after making it to the half mile pole.
