Footnotes

AWESOME FEATHER away in good order, secured a forward position in short order, sat perched in the three path keeping watch on the front runners just up ahead, under the slightest of hand movement to maintain interest, moved up and rapidly closed in on them from the midway point on the turn, got let out notch a sixteenth down the road and blew by to enter the stretch with none latched on, poured it on, hand ridden from upper to midstretch, flashed the whip from the right side, then switched over to a mild hand ride during the final seventy yards, ended the race as so, with a jubilant rider blowing a kiss skyward after crossing the wire. ALL DUE RESPECT got bumped at the start, prompted the pacesetter from the outside, proved no match for the winner but held on well for place honors. DADDY'S HONOR lightly coaxed while showing the way from the inside, gave way. KID KATE came inward sharply bumping with ALL DUE RESPECT at the start, darted over to the rail soon afterwards, had no impact. BELIEVE IN A. P. raced along the outside and was outrun.
