Footnotes

WILD TARGET assumed a forward position right from the start, pressed the issue three wide on the turn, began to narrow in on the runner up after going a half, turned for home already having been put to a hard drive, engaged in a spirited tussle with REIN KING down the stretch, battled heads apart the final furlong and gamely got the nod. REIN KING quickly grabbed the lead, was taken inward and settled into the two path, showed the way from there with the winner applying some pressure, had it turned up a notch late on the turn, entered the stretch and waited until the vicinity of the three-sixteenths pole being called upon for his best, fought fiercely with the top one but had to settle for being second best. METAURUS was urged five wide into the stretch and went on to best the rest. UNBRIDLED FIRE was hustled from the gate to secure an advanced post, departed the backstretch from the three path, got put to a prolonged hard drive, tired. SHANKOPOTAMUS got off a beat slowly, getting taken away from a wayward KATZ MY SONG but not before making light contact with that rival, chased the front runners from off the inside on the turn, was under a drive before reaching the five-sixteenths marker, folded. KING ROCK chased three wide on the turn and failed to reach a contending position. KATZ MY SONG came out slightly at the start, was grabbed hold of yet still brushed with the nearest foe, raced along the outside, was under the whip by the three-eighths pole, tired. CHIEF GAGA took the inside route, faltered, got put to a protective hold in upper stretch and was eased.
