Footnotes

FRESHMAN DORM bumped lightly with each rival breaking alongside at the start, settled in midpack two wide entering the backstretch, went shoulder to shoulder with GREEN BLUFF to briefly take away the three path, tucked back into the two path for run around the bend, turned for home lacking optimal racing clearance, bullied his way towards the outside in the vicinity of the three-sixteenths pole, interfering with and twice initiating contact with GLOBAL POWER before reaching the eighth pole, took off in earnest departing that station with the runner up making a bold run a few paths closer to the inside, grabbed a narrow advantage in the vicinity of the sixteenth pole and dug in stubbornly to preserve it. UNBRIDLED OCEAN lagged behind in the early going, picked up the pace during the run around the bend, was already under encouragement turning for home, was taken inward a path or so in upper stretch, accelerated after securing his new passageway to loom boldly, battled hard but couldn't go by the revved up winner. NINE O WONDERFUL displayed a good kick en route for the show. ABILIO vied for command with FORUM from near the three path, but with space separating the two pace combatants, had BOMBAGUIA join the fracas nearing the end of the turn, fell back slightly after the previously mentioned grabbed the front, fought back with good intensity to re claim it, but with several fresher faces now in hot pursuit, relinquished shortly after leaving the eighth pole, and weakened. IMAGINING underwent a three to four wide journey, lacked the necessary stretch response. BOMBAGUIA broke outward, was pulled off the top one but not before making light contact, contently stalked the ongoing pace dispute, was let out a notch and after challenging from between the two front runners struck the top as the field headed for the top of the lane, yielded it back in short order and steadily tired thereafter. GLOBAL POWER departed the backstretch three wide, remained forwardly placed for the next quarter of a mile, seemed to respond positively when given his cue in upper stretch, got bullied by the winner, bumping twice with that opponent as the twosome proceeded down the stretch from the three-sixteenths pole to the furlong marker, was steadied after making contact the second time and lost all interest. E. H. INDY brushed at the start, tired soon after going a half. GREEN BLUFF pushed four wide early down the backstretch, was three wide on the turn, failed to menace. FORUM dueled from the inside and retreated. There was a Stewards' Inquiry focusing on the stretch run before the result was declared official.
