Footnotes

CORPORATE CULTURE stalked the front runners from afar along the outside in the initial stages, closed in, as did the others nearing the end of the backstretch, ranged up and confronted WICKAPECKO during the run around the far turn, soon took over and got turned loose, drifted out at intervals during the stretch drive, despite some intermittent right handed stick work and held off the runner up. GUSTAVIA raced along the outside, arrived at the five-sixteenths pole already under some encouragement, was under much stronger handling spinning into the lane, taking the same path as the winner did, albeit at some distance behind that rival, was maneuvered towards the middle of the course making her way through the furlong grounds, continued onward with willingness but had to settle for the place. COARSEGOLD tracked the front runners towards the inside in the opening stages, was in the two path by the crown of the far turn and in the third one, under urging, entering the stretch, got outfinished by the top twosome but held her own to the end for show honors. PLEASANT CAT three wide entering the second turn, was four wide exiting it, lacked the needed response. WICKAPECKO was reluctant to load into the starting gate, moved up on the first turn to dispute the early pace, shook off MERKADONA after an abbreviated gap duel and tucked along the inside after doing so, had the winner draw alongside shortly afterwards, argued with that one unasked for run until about the five-sixteenths pole, relinquished and faltered. ROSIE MY WAY three wide and roused at the three-eighths pole, offered no pick up. LOVELY DYNAFORMER raced towards the inside for nearly three-quarters, swung three wide into the stretch, showed no closing punch. TAPITINSILVER acted fractiously behind the gate, bobbed at the start, was strung out three wide on the opening bend, raced off the inside throughout and failed to menace. MERKADONA sparred briefly with WICKAPECKO in the initial stages, continued to ride the rail and faded. LOVELY BELLA was steadied after the start, dropped back while racing sluggishly and was never involved.
