Footnotes

CENTRAL BANKER , four wide stalking the pace, leaned in leaving the half mile pole bumping LAUGH TRACK and tightening QUIET FORCE and BROADWAY EMPIRE, was quickly righted and dropped in a path to take aim mid turn, bid to join DELAUNAY entering the lane, wandered outward a bit soon after, straightened and went clear under solid right handed encouragement approaching the furlong grounds, met the bid of SHAKIN IT UP a sixteenth later, drifted out to race in close proximity of that one and dug in tenaciously to prevail. SHAKIN IT UP settled off the pace four wide and in the clear, responded when leaving the three eighths pole, made a bold four wide run into the stretch, ranged up to be on near even terms inside the sixteenth marker, dueled, was floated out late with his rider unable to use the left stick and was held at bay. CLEARLY NOW was squeezed back soon after the break, lagged off the early pace, gathered momentum when put to a strong ride mid turn, swung six wide into the lane, rallied on his left lead to loom in mid stretch then flattened out. BROADWAY EMPIRE accelerated along the rail to join the leaders after a quarter mile, was bumped and shuffled back around the far turn, regained stride and angled out, edged up to be within striking distance a quarter mile out, kept on willingly between runners to the sixteenth pole then faded. DELAUNAY set a rated pace three wide outside rivals, dropped in a path around the turn, was engaged by the winner after five furlongs, gave brief resistance then tired through the final furlong. CAPO BASTONE had no speed while off the rail, angled six to seven wide while under a ride into the stretch, closed belatedly but could not threaten. SAHARA SKY , off the pace while saving some ground, was under pressure after a half mile, angled four wide into the lane but could not make an impact. LAUGH TRACK stalked the early pace three wide between runners, was bumped and put in tight by the winner nearing the turn, gave chase around the turn and faded. QUIET FORCE steadied off of rivals while stalking early, bumped and checked sharply entering the turn, failed to recover and dropped back mid turn. FALLING SKY vied inside of DELAUNAY to the head of the stretch then surrendered. RIVER BEAR broke a step slow, was maneuvered towards the rail near the half mile pole, dropped back soon after and was being eased.
