Footnotes

SOUL OPPOSITION brushed with TASSINAIA at the start, patiently stalked the front runners from the two path, tipped outward to be three wide coming to the five-sixteenths pole, remained on hold before getting called upon entering the stretch, drove past the runner up during the ensuing furlong, kicked well clear, kept busy to the end. ROSIE'S SONG was pulling on the bit while securing a forward position during the initial stages, vied for command from the two path, was kept on hold while continuing on even terms with an energetically-handled TASSINAIA during the later stages of the run around the bend, got asked for her best, once settled into the lane, failed to keep up with the winner, but finishing willingly nevertheless to procure the place. CAROLE LEE lost her footing as the field was sent off, then shied outward from pressure coming from ISN'TSHEWONDERFUL, settled into midpack, was in the three path having already felt the whip by the five-sixteenths pole, proved no match. TASSINAIA made light contact with the second place finisher, breaking slightly outward as that foe was coming in slightly at the same time, got used early rushing up to grab the advantage, was put to a more relaxed hold by the pilot once sufficiently clear, argued to hold on to a slim lead versus ROSIE'S SONG, herself parked to the outside, needed strong encouragement to stay heads apart prior to the quarter pole, got shaken off during the initial portion of the stretch drive and gave way. ISN'TSHEWONDERFULL broke outward, departed the midway point on the turn being four wide, tired. RUN TO MAMA instantly left the post parade after stepping on to the track, proceeded to come out of the gate with no apparent mishap, rode the rail to the quarter pole, under a drive for most of the way on the turn, faltered. PRIZE TAKER bobbed at the start, raced from off the inside having been put to a prolonged drive, commenced the stretch four wide, was outrun.
