LITIGATION RISK away quickly, bumped with LUBANGO a couple of jumps after the start, went on to assume a forward spot, engaged in a spirited tussle with YA GOTTA HAVE SOUL, now positioned in the two path, was guided over to the inside upon reaching the half mile pole, continued the battle racing as a team with the aforementioned rival, with both attempting to keep something in reserve all the while, was set down immediately after settling into upper stretch, spurred away during the run through the furlong grounds, then increased the winning margin while being kept to the task at hand. YA GOTTA HAVE SOUL advanced forward to dispute the pace with the top one from the outside, remained on nearly even terms with that foe from the two path around the turn, relying entirely on the steed's natural speed, was asked for run almost simultaneously when the winner was, failed to keep pace, but continued on with good courage to be clearly second best. LAUNCH N RELAUNCH raced along the outside, and came home willingly to be along in time for show honors. COCALERO spotted the field a significant head start after he fell to his face at the break, was allowed to settle into stride after recovering, rejoined the pack during the run around the bend, being coaxed along throughout, angled sharply into the lane, requiring the rider to grab hold momentarily to avoid contact with another rival, then continued willingly to grab the last major share. LUBANGO bumped with the eventual winner after the start, was hustled into a forward position, needed light coaxing to keep pace with a pair of more confidently handled pace battlers, while perched just behind them, failed to offer a serious stretch bid after being called upon in the lane. SIX CLICKS saved ground throughout. BRAVO WHISKEY three wide on the turn, swung five wide into the stretch, but had no kick. MAXIMUS RULER underwent a four wide pursuit and tired. ASPIRE between rivals on the turn, folded. YES I'M CLEVER raced three wide and faltered. There was a Stewards' Inquiry focusing on the start of the race before the result was declared official.
