Footnotes

CANTONIC left alertly to secure a forward position, latched on to HOBBS just before completing the initial split, made additional progress until eye to eye with that opponent, raced as a team with, with hardly ever more than a head separating the two combatants, neither of whom was being asked for run, arrived at the top of the stretch still on dead even terms and was asked for a response, came in slightly, quickly corrected by the rider, as the chief nemesis drifted out ever so slightly, likewise put on a straighter course in short order, with the end result of no serious contact made, came in less than a lane twice thereafter, rubbing shoulders with the runner up at the eighth pole then bumping lightly with the same foe a sixteenth down the road, kicked well clear after the second incident, crossing the wire hand urged. HOBBS gained early command and tucked along the inside a short distance from the end of the homestretch, had the top one draw directly alongside soon after going the first quarter, went at it head to head, with the pilot only applying the lightest of coaxing to maintain interest, got called upon as the pair spun into the stretch, made insignificant contact with the winner in midstretch, got brushed with more impact at the sixteenth pole, with the rider taking hold and losing a tad of momentum, fell back steadily, then just held on to the place. SCORCHER took the inside route, was under a drive cutting the corner into the lane, finished willingly, missing out on place honors. SITUATIONAL ETHICS three wide on the first turn, was closer to the inside thereafter until the quarter pole, lacked the necessary stretch response. VOLCANO RUN settled along the inside early, rode the hedge while pulling continuously on the left side of the bit, became rank and came out into the two at the three-eighths pole, had the rider switch over to a much stronger grip on the left rein with some stick work near the right shoulder as well, stayed two wide the rest of the way around the far turn turn, was asked for the stretch run, failed to respond appreciably. PUREST FORM sneaked his way into the pocket near the half mile pole, saved ground from that point and got outfinished. BALANCE THE BUDGET swung four wide into upper stretch, had no rally. THOMAS HILL managed a tuck into the two path prior to reaching the first turn, commenced the stretch run the widest of all, trailed. An objection lodged by the rider of HOBBS against the rider of CANTONIC alleging interference in the stretch was not allowed.
