Footnotes

DAYATTHESPA acted slightly skittish before the field was sent on its way, proceeded to come away in good order, was put to light hand urging and briefly led the field before conceding the top to ASSATEAGUE, patiently stalked that rival from the outside for nearly three-quarters, issued a challenge in earnest during the later stages of the run around the far turn and poked a head down in front by the quarter pole to lead the others into the stretch, shook free during the ensuing furlong, maintained the advantage to the end, crossing the wire under a strong hand ride. PEACE PRESERVER contently rode the hedge for the opening six furlongs, entered the stretch with another pair clogging up the inside route, was partially alongside SWEET AND LOVELY when steadied and taken back slightly setting up a maneuver towards the middle of the course, did alter course soon afterwards, eventually winding up five wide, picked up the pace noticeably leaving the furlong grounds, but even more so afterwards, charging home with a strong kick from the sixteenth pole, too late. ALAURA MICHELE broke through the gate, needed a strong hold from the pilot and some assistance from outrider to prevent a long runoff, was examined before being reloaded, broke with no apparent mishap as the field was sent off and running only seconds later, saved ground throughout and held on well to secure the show. RUN A RISK reserved from off the inside, lacked the necessary stretch response. SWEET AND LOVELY broke open the gate in reaction to the antics coming from ALAURA MICHELLE, was put to a snug hold making her way down the homestretch, tracked the front runners while sitting in the pocket, managed to slip near the two path in upper stretch, came up empty. HEART OF DESTINY was unhurried from off the inside, got put three wide and asked for run at the five-sixteenths pole, swung even wider into upper stretch until five lanes off the inside, flashed some belated foot while earning minor spoils. ZULTANITE saved ground early and was outrun. ASSATEAGUE was given the top by the winner shortly before reaching the opening bend, showed the way rated on a loosely-contested lead for almost six furlongs, got put to the test by DAYATTHESPA approaching the quarter pole, offered resistance for about a sixteenth before completely succumbing.
